CHAPTER 1: INTRODUCTION

This Employee Handbook is presented in a simplified manner to enable every employee to understand it. Welcome to Enfrasys Companies. We take pride in continuously achieving strong business results, largely due to the dedication and contributions of each of our staff.

As a guide to your employment with Enfrasys Group, this Employee Handbook sets out the general terms and conditions of employment applicable to all permanent employees of Enfrasys Group, effective from 2024. It shall remain in force unless and until it is superseded by new terms and conditions of service or terminated as provided herein.

This Handbook serves as a formal introduction and as a guide to help shape your career with Enfrasys Group. The Management has made great efforts to prepare this Handbook and wishes to keep its contents confidential and not permit it to fall into the hands of third parties. Please read every page carefully and, if you have any doubts, do not hesitate to contact the People, Culture and Corporate Services Department of Enfrasys Group.

Notwithstanding the above, if an employee has entered into an employment agreement with Enfrasys Group under specific terms of employment that are not mentioned in this Handbook, the employee unless otherwise advised shall be bound by such specific terms and conditions as may be applicable to him/her and shall be treated on a personal-to-holder basis.

All questions, disputes, and ambiguities, if any, connected with the implementation and the interpretation of this Handbook shall be referred to the People, Culture and Corporate Services Department of Enfrasys Group or any other personnel as appointed by Enfrasys Group Management for clarification and resolution.

Enfrasys Group reserves the right to review, add to, amend, or vary any policy or procedure, or any part thereof, as and when deemed necessary in line with business operations and market requirements. Such amendments may be communicated via Enfrasys Group General Circulars or by any other means of communication as Enfrasys Group may decide from time to time.

Saturday / Sunday	Off-days / Rest-days

Project Site

Under any circumstances where you are based at a customer site for an assigned project, you will be required to work such hours as advised by the customer, as necessary.

1.1.2 Working hours that differ from the above will be determined and communicated to the employees concerned by Management or respective immediate superior.

1.1.3 Employees may be required to work beyond their normal working hours to complete urgent assignments or duties.

1.2 Employees may occasionally be required to attend training sessions, seminars, internal meetings, company functions, or gatherings on weekends (Saturday or Sunday), without replacement leave. However, in certain cases, replacement leave may be considered and approved, subject to business needs and management discretion.

1.3 PROBATIONARY PERIOD

1.3.1 All new employees of Enfrasys Group shall undergo a probationary period before confirming as permanent employees. Probationary period for each category of employee is as below:

Category	Duration
Non-managerial & Executive Levels	3 – 6 months
Technical, Managerial Level & above	6 months

1.3.2 Where applicable, the probationary period may be reduced or extended at the discretion of the Management if the employee's performance merits it and upon recommendation by his/her immediate superior.

- 1.3.3 PCCS shall inform employee concerned by official letter for any extension of the probationary period.
- 1.3.4 At the end of the probationary period, a formal performance assessment will precede the written notice of confirmed status, which will be provided to employee.
- 1.3.5 During the probationary period, or any extension thereof, either party (the Company or the employee) may terminate the employment by giving the required notice period, or payment of wages in lieu of such notice, as stipulated in the Employment Contract.
- 1.3.6 Any such termination shall be carried out in accordance with applicable laws and fair employment practices.
- 1.3.7 Any termination during the probationary period or after the confirmation shall be governed by the terms and conditions stated in the employee's Employment Contract or Confirmation Letter. Employees are advised to refer to the relevant clause for details on notice period, confirmation, or termination requirements.

- 1.4.2 Holidays falling on Saturday are not eligible for replacement leave.

- 1.4.3 Holidays falling on Sunday will be observed on the following Monday.

- 1.4.4 For gazetted public holidays with specific days and dates, employees shall refer to the annual memorandum issued each year.

1.5 RESIGNATION

- 1.5.1 A confirmed employee who resigns is required to give a written resignation notice or to pay basic salary in lieu of the notice period in accordance with the Employment Contract. Notice of resignation must be given to the Head of Department and a copy extended to the People, Culture and Corporate Services.
- 1.5.2 If the required period of the resignation notice or payment in lieu of notice has not been given or made and/or the individual concerned has not fulfilled any or all his contractual obligations, the employee has breached the employment contract, and the Company may exercise its rights to remedy such breach.
- 1.5.3 The Company has the discretion to waive any part of the notice period notwithstanding the provision above.
- 1.5.4 The employee shall surrender all company electronic devices, documents, files, vehicles, keys, and other company properties in his possession, upon his/her termination of employment.
- 1.5.5 The employees shall reimburse the Company the value of the replacement for any company's property that was lost or destroyed while under their possession.
- 1.5.6 Upon tendering notice of resignation, any outstanding earned leave granted within the employment period shall only be taken during the notice period after it is applied for and approved by management. The Company reserves the right to require the employee to serve the notice and be paid for any unutilized balance leave.

1.6 TERMINATION

- 1.6.1 Upon confirmation, should either party (i.e., employer or employee) wish to terminate the contract of employment, the following notice periods of termination are required to be fulfilled before the full termination of contracts.

Category	Notice Period
Non-managerial & Executive Levels	One (1) month
Managerial Level & above	Two (2) months

- 1.6.2 Any waiver(s) or variations of the notice period is subject to the respective Head of Department or Management approval which will be based on a mutual agreement/arrangement deemed to fit between the Employer and Employee.

1.6.3 An employee who has tendered a resignation notice and has a balance of annual leave may apply for the utilization of such annual leave entitlement against the notice period, subject to prior written approval from the immediate superior and Management.

1.6.4 In the event of breach of contract on the part of employee, the employment may be terminated without notice and without pay in lieu of notice. Ground for immediate dismissal shall include, but not limited to the following:

- Unauthorized disclosure of Confidential Information

- Causing a threat to the office environment and reputation
- Gross negligence
- Conviction of a criminal offence
- Pecuniary embarrassment
- Other acts in breach of Company Code of Ethics and Conduct & Discipline
- Smoking in the office premises

1.6.5 The last drawn salary and allowance for the resigned employees will be calculated on a pro-rate basis.

1.7 RETIREMENT AGE

1.7.1 The minimum retirement age of an employee shall be upon the employee reaching the age of Sixty (60) years, pursuant to Section 4(1) of the Minimum Retirement Age Act 2012.

"Minimum Retirement Age Act 2012 (MRAA) has set the minimum retirement age of an employee shall be upon the employee attaining the age of 60".

1.8 CONFIDENTIALITY

1.8.1 Employees' personal remuneration or any terms and benefits reflected in the employment contract are not to be discussed with any other employee.

1.8.2 No employee should disclose any information of any kind, without limitation, any formula, process, or method of undertaking the commercial activities of the Company, trade secret, record, data, or any information concerning the business affairs or customers of the Company which may come to their knowledge.

1.9 SECONDMENT OF SERVICE

- 1.9.1 Enfrasys Group may at its discretion and in the interest of its business from time to time reassign or transfer any employee to work in any section, department, or division of Enfrasys Group and to second employee either part time or full time, to any company in Malaysia or elsewhere.
- 1.9.2 Such a secondment will be affected in terms no less favorable than the benefits packages that the employee is being offered by Enfrasys Group.
- 1.9.3 Any secondment shall be notified via official letter.

1.10 RE – EMPLOYMENT

- 1.10.1 A former employee may be re-employed only if the former employee is qualified for the position and if the former employee's track record is satisfactory and acceptable.
- 1.10.2 The Management shall determine the eligibility for re-employment, and the employment will be based on new terms and conditions agreed upon by both parties.

1.11 COMPANY EVENT/FUNCTION

- 1.11.1 Company may organize functions/events for its employees in recognition of their efforts and contributions. These functions/events shall include but not be limited to:
- Company's annual dinner
 - Family day
 - Company trip whereby awards/gifts/lucky draw may be given to employees as a gesture of appreciation by the Management.

1.12 JOB GRADING

Enfrasys' current staff grading framework is under review for enhancement in line with internal organisational requirements and external best practices. The revised grading framework is expected to be completed by the end of Q2 2026.

SECTION 2: STATUTORY CONTRIBUTIONS & MANDATORY

2.1 EMPLOYEE PROVIDENT FUND (EPF), EMPLOYEES' SOCIAL SECURITY (SOCSO)

- 2.1.1 The Management and every individual employee are required to make monthly contributions to statutory bodies according to rates and prescribed by the relevant Acts, i.e. Employee Provident Fund Act 1991 (EPF) and Social Security Act 1969 (SOCSO & EIS).

2.2 INCOME TAX

- 2.2.1 The employee's income from salaries and related payments are subject to schedule tax deduction, in line with the provisions of Income Tax Act 1967.

SECTION 3: SALARY ALLOWANCE & COMPENSATION

3.1 SALARY

- 3.1.1 The Management shall have the absolute discretion to determine the rates of pay and salary range for all employees.
- 3.1.2 The salary of all employees shall be on a monthly basis and will be paid on or before the 7th of each month.
- 3.1.3 While the Company respects employees' rights under applicable laws, employees are expected to exercise professionalism and discretion when handling or discussing remuneration-related information.
- 3.1.4 Employees must not:
- I. Disclose or misuse confidential payroll data of other employees obtained through work access
 - II. Share sensitive Company compensation structures, policies, or internal documents without authorization
 - III. Engage in discussions that may lead to workplace disruption, misinformation, or conflict
 - IV. Any breach involving misuse of confidential information obtained through official duties may result in disciplinary action.

3.2 BONUSES

- 3.2.1 Annual bonus payment is non-contractual, and subject to the Management's discretion.
- 3.2.2 Entitlement to annual bonus shall be subject to the eligibility criteria set by the management including:
- a. Only confirmed employees are entitled to bonus payment. Employees must be confirmed in their positions before 31st December of the current year to be eligible for the bonus.

- b. The amount or quantum of the bonus to be paid shall be determined by the Management, based on the recommendation of the Group C Level and Chief Finance Officer (CFO).
- c. Employees who are serving their resignation notice period, terminated, or dismissed by the management shall not be eligible for bonus payment.
- d. An employee who is confirmed in their employment but has not completed a full year in the service of the Company shall be eligible for a prorated bonus, based on the number of months served.
- e. Performance appraisal ratings and Key Performance Indicators (KPI) will be one of the bases for determining the quantum of individual bonus entitlement.

3.3 OVERTIME

3.3.1 Employees whose wages are up to Ringgit Malaysia Four Thousand (RM 4,000.00) per month are eligible for overtime pay.

3.3.2 Any person irrespective of wages is: -

- engaged in manual labour.
- engaged in the operation or maintenance of any mechanically propelled vehicle.
- he supervises or oversees other employees engaged in manual labour.

3.4 SALARY INCREMENT

3.4.1 A salary increment is not an entitlement; it is at the prerogative of Enfrasys Group Management. It is subject to satisfactory individual performance and the performance of Enfrasys Group as a whole.

SECTION 4: LEAVE

4.1 ANNUAL LEAVE

4.1.1 All annual leave (AL) applications must be applied via SQL e-Leave.

4.1.2 Non – Managerial Level

Years of Continuous Service	Number of Leave Granted Per Year
Probation	Prorated
1	14
3	16
≥5	18

Managerial Level

Years of Continuous Service	Number of Leave Granted Per Year
Probation	Prorated
1	16
3	18
≥5	20

4.1.3 Absence from work without informing the Manager/ HOD with valid reasons will automatically cause the employee's salary or leave to be deducted accordingly.

Number of day(s) apply	Working day required for AL application
< 3 days	5
≥ 3 days and above	10

4.1.4 Employees are required to apply AL five (5) working days in advance for maximum of three (3) days leave applied.

4.1.5 Employees are required to apply AL ten (10) working days in advance for more than three (3) days leave applied.

4.1.6 If employees fail to apply within the stipulated period relative to the number of leave applied, then the application of leave, if approved, will be considered as Emergency Leave (EL).

4.1.7 The responsibility of getting leave approval falls upon the employee, and further communication should be done between the employees and their direct superiors.

4.1.8 No leave shall exceed five (5) working days consecutively in a calendar month unless specifically approved by the Management.

- 4.1.9 Employees are encouraged to take leave and utilize their leave entitlement within the calendar year.
- 4.1.10 Confirmed employees are allowed to utilize their annual leave entitlement throughout the year. For example, the employee has fourteen (14) days of annual leave. The employee can utilize fourteen (14) days of annual leave from January to December subject to the respective head of department's approval.
- 4.1.11 However, if the employee utilized the annual leave in advance, then the employee decided to leave Enfrasys Group for whatever reason/circumstance, the advance annual leave used will be calculated and to be deducted from the employee's end month salary.
- 4.1.12 Time Slip - All employees are eligible to apply for a time slip, provided the request aligns with the permitted reasons as outlined below.
- a. Medical consultations or treatments from certified medical practitioner (e.g., doctor's appointments, physiotherapy).
- 4.1.13 Time Slips Within two (2) hours: Absences up to two (2) hours will not affect the employee's leave balance but must still be recorded with proper documentation.
- 4.1.14 Time Slips Exceeding two (2) hours: If the absence exceeds two (2) hours, the time will be deducted from the employee's Annual Leave (AL) balance as follows:
- a. Absences exceeding two (2) hours, but less than 4 hours will result in a half-day deduction.
 - b. Absences exceeding four (4) hours will result in a full-day deduction.
- 4.1.15 Extended or frequent use of time slips may require additional review by PCCS and management.
- 4.1.16 Misuse of time slips or failure to provide adequate justification may result in disciplinary action.
- 4.1.17 Time slips will only be accepted in the following scenarios and must be provided by a licensed medical practitioner from a hospital:
- i. Medical appointments: For necessary doctor appointments that require time away from work.
 - ii. Family emergencies: For instances where the employee's immediate family member (such as a child, spouse, immediate parents or parents-in-law, immediate grandparents) requires urgent medical care, and the employee needs to take time off to provide support.
 - iii. Pregnancy-related: For maternity leave, doctor's appointments related to pregnancy, or complications requiring medical care.

4.2 MEDICAL LEAVE

- 4.2.1 Medical leave is defined as leave that is granted upon certification by a registered medical practitioner that an employee is medically unfit to work for a particular day.
- 4.2.2 Confirmed employees are entitled to medical leave with valid medical certificates by an authorized doctor as supporting documents in one calendar year.

Years of Service	Sick Leave
Below 2 years	14 days
2 years to 5 years	18 days
Above 5 years	22 days

- 4.2.3 Failure to provide a medical certificate, the leave will be considered as unpaid leave.
- 4.2.4 Misuse of sick leave may result in disciplinary action, up to and including termination of employment.
- 4.2.5 Employees are required to present to the Company the sick leave certificate issued by the registered practitioner as soon as they return to work on the following day.

4.3 HOSPITALIZATION LEAVE

- 4.3.1 An employee may be granted hospitalization leave with full pay for up to a maximum period of sixty (60) days.
- 4.3.2 Application for hospitalization leave shall be made in writing to the People, Culture and Corporate Services Department through the Head of Department. All applications must be accompanied by a hospital letter from the attending doctor/specialist.
- 4.3.3 The maximum period of sixty (60) days of paid hospitalization leave shall be reduced by the number of days of paid hospitalization leave taken by the employee.
- 4.3.4 If an employee is granted hospitalization leave but fails to inform or attempt to inform his superior of such leave within 48 hours, he/she will be deemed to be absent without leave.
- 4.3.5 No employee shall be entitled to paid hospitalization leave during which the employee is entitled to paid maternity allowance, to compensation for disablement under Workmen's Compensation Act 1952, or for any periodical payments for temporary disablement under the Employee's Social Security Act 1969.

4.4 MATERNITY LEAVE

- 4.4.1 All confirmed female employees are entitled to ninety-eight (98) days of maternity leave with full month salary entitlement. This entitlement and benefit shall include, but not be limited to following terms and conditions:

- a. Maternity leave shall apply only for employees with up to five (5) surviving children at the time of confinement. Children in this section mean all-natural children, irrespective age.
- b. Maternity leave shall only commence after the completion of 24 weeks of pregnancy.
- c. Female employee must notify Enfrasys Group within a period of sixty (60) days immediately preceding her impending confinement of the date from which she intends to commence her maternity leave.
- d. Any absence from work as a result of miscarriage, stillbirth, abortion, premature birth or any other illness due to pregnancy shall be deemed as normal medical leave if the female employee fails to satisfy the above first two requirements.
- e. Female employees applying for maternity leave shall apply one (1) month before the commencement date of the leave and her expected date of delivery must be certified by the attending gynecologists.
- f. On the expiry of the maternity leave, if the female employee is certified unfit to work by Enfrasys Group' panel clinics/hospitals / registered gynecologists, her absence from work will be treated as normal medical leave and thereafter as unpaid leave.

4.5 PATERNITY LEAVE

- 4.5.1 All confirmed male employees are entitled to seven (7) days of paid paternity leave entitlement.
- 4.5.2 This entitlement is limited to the first five (5) confinements only.
- 4.5.3 This leave application must be submitted via email with the support of a certified birth certificate.

4.6 COMPASSIONATE LEAVE

- 4.6.1 All confirmed employees are entitled to three (3) consecutive days of compassionate leave per occasion on the death of the employee's immediate family members, which include:
 - Grandparents
 - Grandparents-in-law
 - Parents
 - Parents-in-law
 - Spouse
 - Children/Adopted children
 - Siblings
- 4.6.2 Employees are required to provide a death certificate as a supporting document for the leave application upon returning to work.

4.7 UNPAID LEAVE

- 4.7.1 Unpaid leave is not a right or entitlement of an employee, but a privilege accorded to an employee. It shall not be encouraged to be approved by the immediate superior without first considering the following guidelines:
- i. That the employee is still under a probationary period.
 - ii. That all annual leave entitlement has been exhausted.
 - iii. That the employee can be relieved from his or her duties.
 - iv. That each case be considered on its own merits.
- 4.7.2 Employees who have still not earned their annual leave or have used up all their earned leaves, may apply for unpaid leave by applying to their Department Head for approval at least five (5) working days in advance from the date the leave is intended to be taken. Application where notice is less than five (5) working days will not be entertained.
- 4.7.3 Approval will be granted at the absolute discretion of the Company depending on the reason such leave is required.
- 4.7.4 Employees who have an annual leave balance are not allowed to take any unpaid leave.
- 4.7.5 Resigned employees serving notice periods are strictly prohibited to take unpaid leave.
- 4.7.6 No unpaid leave will be approved for a period exceeding one (1) week except at the absolute discretion of the Company.
- 4.7.7 The Company reserves the right to cancel any approved application for unpaid leave should the employee's presence is required.
- 4.7.8 Employees are strongly discouraged from taking unpaid leave unless there are unavoidable circumstances/matters to attend to, and all earned leave has been exhausted.
- 4.7.9 The number of days of unpaid leave taken will be considered during the performance appraisal evaluation and it may impact on the performance evaluation as the number of effective workdays has been reduced.
- 4.7.10 Employees found responsible for abusing unpaid leave may be subject to disciplinary action which may lead to termination of employment.

4.8 EMERGENCY LEAVE

- 4.8.1 Emergency leave is defined as leave taken without prior approval due to unforeseen circumstances. e.g., accident, death of relative(s), serious illness of family members.
- 4.8.2 Emergency leave will be offset against the Employee's annual leave earned. In cases where an Employee still has not earned his/her annual leave or has used up all his/her earned leave, the emergency leave taken shall be treated as unpaid leave and his/her salary for that month will be deducted for the leave was taken.

4.8.3 The Emergency Leave will be treated on case-to-case basis. The following are the general guidelines for utilisation of Emergency Leave:

- i. Family or other emergencies provided by proof and supporting documentation.

4.8.4 The Company shall have the right to take disciplinary action against any employee found to be abusing his/her Emergency Leave.

4.8.5 The Company reserves the right to cancel any approved application for Emergency Leave should the employee's presence is required.

4.9 EXAMINATION LEAVE

4.9.1 Permanent employees may apply for paid examination leave of up to five (5) days (including Sundays) in a calendar year, subject to Management approval.

4.9.2 No leave shall exceed consecutively five (5) working days in a calendar month unless approved by Management.

4.10 ACCESS CARRIED FORWARD LEAVE

4.10.1 The annual leave entitlement should be taken during the year of entitlement. However, where exigencies of service do not permit the leave to be taken during the year of entitlement, the balance of leave not taken can be carried forward in the following year.

4.10.2 The accumulation of leave is not an employee's right but the Company's privilege to approve if it is deemed necessary. Total carried forward leave accumulated shall not exceed 7 days and it must be utilized by end of March the following year/ 31st March.

SECTION 11: GRIEVANCE PROCEDURES

The Grievance Procedure provides a clear and structured framework for employees to raise and resolve employment-related concerns in a fair, timely, and confidential manner. ENFRASYS encourages employees to raise grievances in good faith to enable early resolution and maintain a respectful and productive work environment.

A grievance refers to any complaint or concern raised by an employee relating to their employment, working conditions, supervisory matters, or interpretation or application of Company policies, which have not been resolved to the employee's satisfaction at the initial level.

A grievance is defined as a complaint by an employee, which he or she brings to the attention of his immediate Supervisor, and which subsequently is not settled to the satisfaction the employee.

- i. The procedure for settling the grievance of an employee is as follows:

Step 1

An employee should first raise the grievance with their immediate Supervisor. If the employee does not obtain satisfaction within five (5) working days, the matter may be referred to the next higher level within a further five (5) working days.

Step 2

If the grievance remains unresolved within ten (10) working days after invoking Step 1, the employee may refer the grievance to the Head of Department within five (5) working days.

Step 3

If the employee does not obtain satisfaction within ten (10) working days after referral to the Head of Department, the grievance may be submitted in writing to the Director or a delegated person within a further five (5) working days.

- i. The Company will make every reasonable effort to provide the employee with a satisfactory response within fourteen (14) working days from the date Step 1 is initiated, subject to the complexity of the matter.
- ii. At any stage of the grievance process, the People, Culture and Corporate Services Department may be engaged by the employee or management to provide guidance, facilitate discussions, or support resolution in an objective and impartial manner.

All grievances will be handled with due regard for confidentiality. Employees who raise grievances in good faith will not be subject to retaliation, discrimination, or adverse treatment as a result of raising grievances.

Employees are advised that grievances involving allegations of serious misconduct, unlawful acts, ethical breaches, harassment, discrimination, or retaliation should be reported through the Whistleblowing Policy, which provides additional confidentiality and protection mechanisms.

Any matters relating to whistleblowing shall be referred to the Whistleblowing Policy available on the i-Learning platform.

Reports may be submitted via email to whistleblowing@enfrasys.com or through the Company's Whistleblowing Form https://forms.office.com/r/SR5LZ7KtVv.

SECTION 12: INDIVIDUAL PERFORMANCE REVIEW

At least two (2) sessions will be carried out in the calendar year to formally discuss an employee's development and performance.

It is a planning process that involves setting a plan of action for the next period and reviewing what has been achieved in the last period.

Based on the review findings, the Company may decide on the reward system to be given to the employees. It also allows the Company to determine career development and training programs for the employees.

SECTION 13: PROFESSIONAL EXAM CERTIFICATION & SERVICES BOND

- i. For technical employees who plan to take the examination, the examination cost will pay by themselves. PCCS will deduct the examination cost from the employee's current month's salary.
- ii. As an example, the examination is registered in January, therefore, the examination cost will be deducted from the January salary. Once the employee passed the examination, they are required to share the examination transcript and certificate with PCCS and Accounts to get a refund of the examination cost. The refund will be reimbursed to the employee on the next salary pay out.
- iii. Upon any failure the examination cost is forfeited, and employees are responsible for following exam fees or charges by themselves to obtain the competency certificate(s).
- iv. The certified employee shall be bonded with Company's Microsoft Partner Network (MPN) as per below:

 - The calculation for the payment of the remaining bonding period is as per Section 14.2.

SECTION 14: TRAINING AND DEVELOPMENT

14.1 IDENTIFYING DEVELOPMENT NEEDS

The Company will adopt a structured approach to identifying the development needs of individuals and staff groups.

14.1.1 Individual development needs: -

These should be identified and agreed through: -

- An initial discussion and individual's role
- The Annual Performance and Development Review process
- On-going discussion with staff about work performance and any changes to the work.

14.1.2 Team or Office development needs: -

These should be identified through: -

- Regular review of work performance for the team or office.

14.1.3 TYPES OF TRAINING

a. Staff Training and Development

Include all activities which aim to assist staff to maintain, update and enhance their knowledge, skills and capabilities. This includes formal, informal, and on-the-job training, as well as a range of other learning and development activities including electronic learning, self-managed learning, mentoring and coaching and the use of shadowing and secondment opportunities.

b. Mandatory Training

Training which the Company requires its staff to receive to ensure that its workforce is competent to deliver the services of the organization. This will include generic training and specific training for groups of staff.

c. Training Evaluation

At the end of every training, an evaluation is carried out through forms, surveys, or face-to-face discussions. The effectiveness of the training is measured based on skills, knowledge and competency gained from the program and how is the employee expected to implement the new skills in his/her work. Training activities are evaluated to determine whether the objectives and the expectation, on which the training modules are based, have been met.

14.2 TRAINING BOND

i. The benefits below shall attract a bond with the company:

Training courses and programmes including but not limited to in house trainings, external trainings, professional certification trainings, trainings at other entities of the company/group of companies, trainings by vendors or any training sponsorships extended to an employee. Trainings related to knowledge, product, equipment, technology, or project transfer, locally or abroad.

ii. Bond Duration

The duration of the bond shall subject to the below:

Total cost of the benefit (RM)	Bond Period
Below 1,000	No Bond
1,000.00 > 2,999.00	6 months
3,000.00 > 4999.00	12 Months
5,000.00 > 7,999.00	18 Months
> 8,000.00	24 Months

iii. Bond Period Clause

The bond period will commence on the next working day following the conclusion of the training, examination, program, or upon the achievement of certification or license, or on any date specified in the bond agreement, whichever occurs later.

If an employee does not meet the passing requirements for any obligations, the bond period will start after the employee successfully fulfils these requirements.

If an employee participates in additional training courses, programs, or obtains other benefits during the bond period, a new bond will be imposed, treating the employee as if they are under a separate bond. This means that the employee may have two (2) or more active bonds concurrently.

In cases where an employee has more than one (1) bond, the bond period with the company will conclude at the expiration of the most recently established bond.

iv. Failure to Complete Bond Period

If fails to complete a minimum of 25% of the training period bond, the individual will be obligated to cover the entire training expenses, along with an extra 50% surcharge if the training costs exceed RM 8,000.

If the employee fails to complete at least 50% of the bond period for whatsoever reasons, then he/she must immediately reimburse the company the full bond amount.

If the employee fails to complete the bond period for whatsoever reasons, after having served 50% or more of the bond period, then he/she must immediately reimburse the company proportionately the sum in respect of the uncompleted service.
